

Leverage Shares lists 42 additional ETPs in London, commodity ETPs for the first time

- Leverage Shares' ETPs now comprise 10% of all ETPs on LSE

London, UK – 9 June 2022 – Leverage Shares, a pioneer in the market of single-stock trackers, short and leveraged Exchange Traded Products (ETPs), has today listed 42 new ETPs on London Stock Exchange.

For the first time the company is listing a number of commodity-based ETPs on Gold, Silver, and Oil, alongside single stock and regional and sector ETPs.

Leverage Shares' ETPs account for 10 per cent of all LSE-listed ETPs. The company becomes the provider with the most single stock ETPs available on the exchange.

Given the turmoil that has hit markets in 2022, Leverage Shares has also launched 12 market-based ETPs on Asian, US, and European indices to provide investors the opportunity to implement regional- and sector-based strategies. These include South Korea, China, Taiwan, Japan, US Tech 100, US 500, Germany 40.

Among the single stock additions to the ETP stable are car manufacturers Mercedes Benz and Volkswagen, plus ETPs in big tech names, including Alphabet, Apple and Facebook. Additionally, South Korea's largest e-commerce company, Coupang (often referred to as the 'Amazon of South Korea') is available on a -3x short and 3x long basis.

Raj Sheth, Commercial Director at Leverage Shares commented: 'We are delighted to break our own record by listing 42 ETPs in a single day, in response to the growing investor interest in our format. As well as increasing the single-stock offer to even more countries, we have extended our suite to offer regional indices as the world has become more macro and volatile. With commodities, especially the oil price, increasingly affecting sentiment, inflation and hence asset prices we are pleased to offer access to them this time.'

Leverage Shares' ETPs mimic the daily return of an underlying stock multiplied by a leverage factor of +5, +3x, +2x, -1x, -2x and -3x. They provide leveraged exposure to globally popular names including Tesla, Berkshire Hathaway, Amazon, Alibaba, Microsoft and Netflix, as well as FTSE 100 companies such as Vodafone.

Leverage Shares' ETPs are also listed on the Euronext Paris, Euronext Amsterdam, Borsa Italiana and, most recently, the Frankfurt Stock Exchange's platform, Xetra. Investors can trade a stock in their own time zone and currency (USD, EUR and GBx) without paying high FX fees, even if the company is listed elsewhere.
