

Investment Objective

Leverage Shares 2x Alphabet ETP is an Exchange-Traded Product (ETP) fully backed by physical assets. The ETP tracks NYSE Leveraged 2x GOOG Index, providing two times the daily performance of Alphabet Inc.’s common stock, GOOG, adjusted to reflect the fees and costs inherent to maintain a leveraged position in the stock.

For example, if Alphabet rises by 1% over a day, then the ETP will rise by 2%, excluding fees. However if the Alphabet falls by 1% over a day, then the ETP will fall by 2%, excluding fees.

Key Features

- Opportunity to magnify returns in one simple trade.
- Liquid. Trades like an equity on exchange, with multiple authorised participants (APs) and market makers (MMs).
- You cannot lose more than the amount invested, and an intraday rebalance mechanism is designed to cushion the largest intra-day falls.
- Simple to trade, no need for futures, no need to use margin account.
- Transparent structure with credit risk effectively negated. Each series of the SPV has physical ownership of the underlying stocks and does not use derivatives.
- Is independent and managed by industry experts.

Key Risks

- Investing in Short and Leveraged ETPs is only suitable for sophisticated and/or informed traders who understand leverage, daily rebalancing and compounded daily returns and are willing to magnify potential losses.
- Investors can lose the full value of their initial investment, however they cannot lose more than their initial investment.
- Losses are magnified due to the nature of leveraged returns. Therefore, Short and Leveraged ETPs are only suitable for investors willing to take a high level of risk.
- Daily compounding may result in returns which an investor may not expect, if the investor has not fully understood how a Leverage Shares ETP works.
- Due to daily rebalancing and compounding, returns measured over periods longer than one day may differ from the underlying index return over those periods.
- In the event a swap counterparty defaults, the proceeds from realisation of the collateral may be less than what the investor expects.
- Investors should only use Leverage Shares ETPs if they have the ability to monitor their positions daily or during the day.
- Please see the risks factors section of the Prospectus for a more detailed discussion of the potential risks.

Risk Warnings

The value of an investment in ETPs may go down as well as up and past performance is not a reliable indicator of future performance. An investment in ETPs is dependent on the performance of the underlying index, less costs, but it is not expected to match that performance precisely. ETPs offering daily leveraged or daily short exposures ("Leveraged ETPs") are products which feature specific risks that prospective investors should understand before investing in them.

Securities issued by the Issuer are products involving a significant degree of risk and may not be suitable for all types of investor. Any decision to invest should be based on the information contained in the prospectus of the Issuer (or any supplements thereto) which includes, inter alia, information on certain risks associated with an investment. The price of any securities may go up or down and an investor may not get back the amount invested. Securities are priced in US Dollars/Euros/Pounds and the value of the investment in other currencies will be affected by exchange rate movements.

Short and leveraged exchange-traded products are only intended for investors who understand the risks involved in investing in a product with short and/or leveraged exposure and who intend to invest on a short-term basis. Any investment in short and/or leveraged products should be monitored on a daily basis to ensure consistency with your investment strategy. You should understand that investments in short and/or leveraged exchange-traded products held for a period of longer than one day may not provide returns equivalent to the return from the relevant unleveraged investment multiplied by the relevant leverage factor.

Potential losses in short and/or leveraged exchange-traded products may be magnified in comparison to investments that do not incorporate these strategies. Please refer to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the relevant prospectus for further details of these and other risks associated with an investment in short and/or leveraged exchange-traded products. You should consult an independent investment adviser prior to making an investment in short and/or leveraged exchange-traded products in order to determine its suitability to your circumstances.
